

Thank you Brenda,

You are a tremendous help and a blessing to us. Kara and I were saying to each other that when we do get moved into our new home and have a house warming party, we really would like to have both you and Sheryl come and join us.

When you do get a response to our offer, if it is good news, then call Kara at home as she is biting at the bit waiting. If it is not, then you can call or email me, well I guess call her too so we can all be on board to discuss our options.

This is indeed both exciting and scary experience for us, but you and your expertise has made it better. Thanks for everything!

Jodie.
